

CLIMATE EMERGENCY RALLY

Melting of the Arctic sea ice may be complete by the northern summer of 2010. However the Rudd government is taking a business-as-usual approach to climate change with inadequate emission reduction targets and a carbon trading scheme that will give free carbon permits to some of the biggest polluters.

We need to stop the coal expansion immediately. With abundant solar, wind and geothermal resources, there's no reason why we couldn't be powered entirely by renewable, while creating more jobs. Only by responding to climate change as an emergency do we have any hope of avoiding the worst impacts.

RENEWABLES NOW NO COAL EXPANSION

Sunday 28th September
2pm Civic Park

Speakers then march to Labor MP Sharon Grierson's office to declare a state of climate emergency, finishing in Wheeler Place to create a giant chalk mural. Wear red and bring emergency props (flashing bike lights, whistles, sirens)
